

Illegal installation of solar photovoltaic panels

Is installing solar panels illegal in any state?

Technically, no state outlaws or bans solar panels; quite the opposite. Most states have solar access laws that forbid any agreement, covenant, condition, bylaw, or contract that outlaws or limits solar installations by Homeowners Associations (HOA) or other municipal bodies.

Are solar access laws illegal?

With that being said, unpermitted systems are illegal to operate in many American jurisdictions, even in states with solar access laws. What is the difference between solar access laws and solar easement laws?

Are solar panels legal?

In fact, the government has been supporting solar panels by providing support and financial incentives. Certain homeowners associations (HOAs) prohibit solar panel installations, but these are generally illegal and unenforceable. Generally, you may assume that solar panel installations are acceptable, even encouraged by the government.

Are HOAs allowed to install solar panels?

For example, in 2022, the North Carolina Supreme Court and the Indiana legislature limited HOAs' power over solar panel installations. But not all states have laws that guarantee HOA residents the right to install solar panels, leaving homeowners there without much legal leverage. What are solar access laws?

Do solar access laws guarantee the right to solar power?

Mendelsohn notes that solar access laws may not always guarantee the right to solar power. He says he's encountered HOAs that previously restricted solar installation in building codes and those clauses have been grandfathered in, even after solar access laws were passed by their states.

Can a HOA ban solar panels in California?

The application is considered approved if there are no writing denial issues within 45 days of application. California also has laws that regulate HOAs' ability to control solar panel installations. In short, HOAs cannot ban installations of any solar energy device.
