How many American solar panel installers are there?

American solar panel installers - showing companies in United States that undertake solar panel installation, including rooftop and standalone solar systems. 8,626 installers based in United States are listed below. ...

Why should I choose a local solar installer?

SolarReviews data, from tens of thousands of reviews of solar companies, shows that local, family-owned solar companies record far higher levels of client satisfaction. This is why we recommend going with a company that's local to your area rather than a nationwide installer. How can I find solar installers near me?

Should you lease or PPA solar panels?

Solar leases and PPAs offer the least financial advantages since the panels remain under the solar company's name. A solar lease often leads to some challenges with an installer, too. Robin Saidov, owner of Your Energy Footprint, shared with us that a company aggressively pushing for leasing is a red flag.

Should you choose a TPO or a rooftop solar system?

If you go with a TPO option, ask the solar company how it passes on tax credit and incentive savings to the customer. The value of a rooftop solar system depends, of course, on what you value. If your primary goal is lowering your carbon emissions, do a little research on how clean your grid electricity already is.

Does California require new construction homes to install solar panels?

There is a mandate in California requiring new construction single-family homes and multiple-family homes up to three stories high to install solar panels. This mandate took effect in 2020 and applies to new homes in Los Angeles.

How much does a rooftop solar system cost?

It's very likely your residential rooftop solar array will cost at least $10,000, and this can often soar above $20,000. In fact, EnergySage estimates that an 11-kW system will cost about $22,000, on average, after factoring in the federal tax credit. The table below lists pricing for companies in our rating.
