

Solar Photovoltaic Panel Scam Report

Are solar panels a scam?

Here's how to steer clear of the scams: Do some research. Avoid solar companies that say a government program will cover the whole cost of solar panels -- or say they're from (or affiliated with) the government. These are lies. If you're looking at solar energy for your home, get quotes from reputable providers with a valid license.

Are solar panel scams common in Florida and California?

Solar panel scams in Florida and California are quite common, as they are in any region where solar energy is popular and incentives are provided. Scammers take advantage of people's limited knowledge about solar systems, providing misleading information that makes it hard for victims to recognize the scam.

What should I do if a solar business is a scam?

Protect your personal information. Don't respond to unexpected requests online or on social media for your name, address, or other personal information to "see if you qualify." At best, this is someone generating leads to sell, not actual solar businesses. At worst, they're scammers trying to steal your identity.

How do I file a complaint against a solar panel company?

Check your state's DOJ website for information on filing a lawsuit or settling a complaint in small claims court. With this, you have learned that filing complaints against solar panel companies involved in solar scams is quite simple. Let's finally read about some cases of solar panel scams in Florida and California.

Is a solar lease a scam?

Solar Lease or PPA Scams While leasing or using a Power Purchase Agreement (PPA) for solar panels isn't inherently a scam, these contracts can be challenging to break. Be cautious, as they may lock you into an unwanted monthly payment for a solar array you don't own.

Are solar leases and PPAs a scam?

No, not all leases and PPAs are scams. However, they seem to be a breeding ground for deceptive and predatory practices, including the old "government is paying people to go solar" scam. Related reading: Solar Leases vs. Solar Loans vs. Solar PPAs
