

Solar power generation for home use scam 6

What is a solar energy scam?

The scams vary, but here's the gist: someone claiming to be with the government or your utility company promises big savings on your utility bills from solar energy or other home improvements designed to increase energy efficiency. If you agree to the scammer's offer, it could cost you tens of thousands of dollars.

Can a solar powered generator protect your home?

The best protection used to be a gas backup generator, but our experts in the Home Improvement and Outdoor Lab at the Good Housekeeping Institute now say it's worth checking out another solution: a solar powered generator.

Is a solar generator worth it?

A solar generator may be worth it depending on how you use it. The cost of the generator easily pays for itself if you live somewhere that receives ample sunlight and you utilize the energy from the generator as a home backup. Alternatively, if you frequently go on road trips, a solar generator is also worth it.

Are free solar panels a scam?

Remind prospective customers that while tax credits, rebates, and incentives might be available for solar purchasers who qualify, offers for "free" or "no cost" solar panels are scams. Comply with the law: old and new. Reputable companies know the importance of being honest about what they're offering - and how much it costs.

Why should you buy a solar generator?

One of the main benefits of solar generators is that they use clean, renewable energy, which is better for the environment. It can also be better for your wallet, as solar generators avoid having to stock up on fuel to run your generator. Is it worth getting a solar generator?

Are solar generators portable?

Solar generators are available as both portable generators and backup home generators. Most solar generators are portable, lightweight, and have a built-in handle. The best portable solar generators are used to provide power for construction sites, campers, events, or other settings where access to electricity is limited.

These scams start with an unexpected phone call, message on social, or even an in-person visit. The so-called official offers you an "energy audit" to reduce your utility costs. Or they might try to sign you up for a "free" program to make your ...
