

Where to find insurance for Trina Solar panels

How do I know if Trina Solar is right for my home?

Ultimately, the best way to determine whether Trina Solar is the best solution for your home is to review multiple quotes with different solar equipment before deciding. Read EnergySage's review of Trina Solar, based on product specifications for every Trina solar panel series, to make your solar research process easier.

Does Trina Solar offer residential solar panels?

Trina Solar currently offers two solar panel lines for residential solutions in the U.S.: the Vertex S/S+ and the Residential line. For solar panels, the most important specs to watch are: Efficiency: How well a solar panel captures sunlight and converts it into electricity for your home, expressed as a percentage (i.e., 22.2%).

How does Trina Solar work?

Trina Solar uses multiple busbars on a single panel, further improving performance. PERC: Passivated Emitter and Rear Contact (PERC) solar cells include a back surface layer that reflects light back through the cell, reduces heat absorption, and reduces electron recombination, all of which improve panel efficiency.

Do I need insurance for a solar panel system?

In most cases, there is no need to get additional insurance to cover your solar panel system. However, since solar is worth thousands or even tens of thousands of dollars and can add around $10,000 to $30,000 of value to your home, we might recommend raising your coverage limit to cover the cost of your home with the solar panel system.

Does home insurance cover rooftop solar panels?

Yes, most home insurance policies do cover rooftop solar panels. By installing solar panels you are enabling your house to produce its own electricity. These rooftop solar panels are usually considered a permanent attachment to your property, similar to a patio or a security system and can, therefore, be considered a form of home improvement.

How do I find a reliable solar installer?

An easy way to find a reliable solar installer is to check consumer reviews on our solar companies page. If you are leasing your solar panel system or if you bought it on a power purchase agreement (PPA), the panels will be covered by the third party who technically owns them. This means you won't have to worry about insurance at all.
